

Online Practice Test for the COTA Exam

NBCOT offers an COTA online multiple-choice practice test, consisting of 100 items reflecting current certification examination content. This test is available for candidates to take 24 hours a day from anywhere a candidate has Internet access.

The COTA practice test is offered in either a 2-hour version, simulating certification test timed conditions, or a double-time 4-hour version. (The exam clock does provide compensation for slow modems or busy Web periods.) At the end of the test, candidates will receive a screen report instantly displaying their overall test score and feedback about their performance across the major areas of the examination. NBCOT does not provide item-level feedback or answers to the individual questions contained in these practice tests.

Online Content Tests

COTA candidates have the option of taking Online Content tests in the areas of:

- Physical Disabilities
- Mental Health
- Pediatrics

These tests are a dynamic learning tool providing rationales at the item-level for each response option. The content tests enable candidates to gain an understanding of their strengths and weaknesses related to a particular practice area. These tests are invaluable for directing a plan of study for the certification examination. Please note, as item-level rationales are provided as a candidate progresses through the test, there is no end of test score report for the content tests.
